

Seven Sisters, Tottenham Green and Bruce Grove Bruce Grove

- The Bruce Grove improvements have been undertaken as part of The Growth on the High Road Project. This project is supported by the Mayor's Regeneration Fund, which proposes a series of improvements to Tottenham High Road to re-introduce vibrancy to the local centre
- The Bruce Grove Bridge painting work completed in early summer 2014. Lighting work will be completed in 2015
- N17 Design Studio is a groundbreaking partnership between Haringey Council, world-renowned architects John McAslan + Partners, and the College of Haringey, Enfield and North East London to transform an empty shop into a design hub offering work placements and apprenticeships for young people. The Studio opened in November 2014
- Network Rail's planning application for the amended station forecourt scheme has been submitted
- Albert Place alleyway has seen a striking yellow spruce-up with painted walls, and new paving, lampposts, lighting and signage. The project was championed by the Bruce Grove Stakeholder Group, made up of local people and businesses and was completed in May 2015
- Holcombe Road Market improvement works are due to start in 2015. The market will increase in size from two retailers to up to five retailers and have a new layout and look

N17 Design Studio

An example of what Holcombe Road Market could look like

